technics are addressed in a simple and original manner (how to make a mini studio, a backdrop stand, how to reflect the light, what is a photocollage, how to embroid on a photograph..)

The material we use is adapted to the young kids, and even sometimes made by them with paper and cardboard. The child works alone most of the time, but also in team in some occasions, for example when we do portraits, or shoot in front of a backdrop. A collective artwork is also scheduled.

A selection of artists and their work is briefly presented throughout the workshop, and some sessions might be inspired by their artwork. The workshop includes the preparation of an exhibition, in late June.

Bibliography: Histoires de la photographie (Julie Jones - Michel Poivert, éditions Jeu de Paume), La photographie (André Rouillé)
